G'wood waterfront hit by property-tax surge

By MICHAEL DANIELS

More than 1,100 Greenwood property owners received their new valuations last week, along with estimates of what their taxes for this year will be.

In many cases the reaction with which the new numbers were greeted was a function of altitude — up in the hills (with the exception of “viewlots”), sighs of relief; down on the waterfront, groans of disbelief.

“Property values have doubled on the water,” said Town Manager Kim Sparks, “and in some cases more than doubled.”

Away from the water, valuations tended to go up slightly, or even remain roughly stable.

Overall, the recently completed revaluation (Greenwood's first since 1993) more than doubled the town's total valuation.

Last year a valuation of $70,744,490 was the base for calculating the town's property-tax rate; this year that valuation has jumped to $158,504,050, due largely to the increase in waterfront valuation.

With the increased valuation, of course, comes a lower tax rate.

Last year the rate was $17.75 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation; this year it will drop to approximately $10.25 (based on the town budget approved by voters in March).

But despite the lower tax rate, the increase in their valuation means owners of waterfront properties are nearly all looking at higher tax bills, sometimes much higher.

For example, one property on Round Pond saw its valuation more than triple, increasing from $203,000 to $756,000.

Lewin Center work and planning moving ahead

By ALISON ALOISIO

An effort begun last fall to restore the Gehring House in Bethel and use it for social research and educational programs has made significant progress, according to director Nancy Davis.

Organizers also plan to offer activities that will draw in the local community.

Background

The Broad Street house, built in 1896, was the home and clinic of Dr. John G. Gehring.

Named to the National Register of Historic Places in 1976, the building features an architectural mix of Queen Anne and Colonial Revival elements.

The house was part of a larger property owned by the National Training Laboratories' property until last year, when eight acres were sold to a developer.

The home was used for many years for summer programs offered by NTL to corporate and educational clients.

NTL employs applied behavioral sciences to, in the words of its website, “strengthen relationships and organizations by fostering self-awareness and interpersonal, group and system effectiveness.”

NTL retains ownership of the Gehring House. Last year, a group of NTL members entered a three-year lease for the house with NTL.

In February, they incorporated the nonprofit Lewin Center at the Gehring House.

The purpose of the center is to further the legacy of social psychologist Kurt Lewin; build on nearly 60 years of work by NTL; and pursue activities, partnerships and collaborations in the social sciences and related research.

Eight local men among those to be honored at Monday's Vietnam Memorial Dedication

By ALISON ALOISIO

The rescheduled Vietnam War Memorial Dedication will take place Monday, as part of Rumford's annual Memorial Day observance.

Rumford's traditional Memorial Day celebration, including parades and the laying of wreaths at other monuments, is scheduled for the morning.

The Vietnam dedication will begin at 1:30 p.m. at Veterans Memorial Park, next to the Androscoggin River.

The ceremony will honor the 38 servicemen from Oxford County who died in the Vietnam War.

Among them were eight from the Bethel area.

Participants/events will include the reading of the names of the servicemen; the introduction of family members, the unveiling of the stone, the blessing of the stone by clergy; “Taps;” music by “Four on a Match;” speeches by family members, Sheriff Wayne Gallant and others.

An F-16 flyover is also planned, according to organizer Len Greaney.

Bethel area fallen Greaney has provided information on the eight servicemen from the Bethel area who died in the conflict.

The list includes the servicemen's names, followed by hometown, year of death, age, rank, branch of service, circumstances of death and place on the Vietnam War Memorial Wall in Washington, D.C.:

James B. Bartlett Bethel, 1966, age 24, Sgt. U.S. Army, 1st Infantry Division. Tour began Sept. 15, 1965. Killed in action in South Vietnam on July 2, 1966. Hostile, Ground Casualty. “Vietnam Wall” Panel, Line: 8E, 117.

Hollis Winfield Buck

Woodstock, 1968, age 36, SSgt. U.S. Army, Co C 1st Bn 4th Infantry Division. Served for 18 years. Prior to Vietnam, he was seriously wounded in the Korean conflict. Tour began Feb. 4, 1968. Killed in action at Kontum Province, South Vietnam on April 27, 1968. Hostile, Ground Casualty. Multiple Fragmentation Wounds. “Memorial Wall” Panel, Line: 52E, 28.

An organizer's lies about having served in Vietnam were the real reason behind last week's postponement

A.P./CITIZEN STAFF

The dedication of a Vietnam Veterans Memorial that was supposed to take place last Saturday was canceled following the disclosure that a chief fundraiser lied about having served in Vietnam.

The initial reasons cited for the cancellation — rain, scheduling conflicts and unspecified “unforeseen events” — were apparently cover for the real reason: the lies of organizer Earl “Scotty” May, who had claimed that he participated in the 10-day battle for Hamburger Hill in 1969.

In fact, May was only 8 years old at the time of the battle.

Law enforcement officials planning for the ceremony discovered the discrepancy.

“The stories and proclamations were all false,” said Oxford County Sheriff Wayne Gallant, a Vietnam veteran who served in the Army.

May and another man, Len Greaney, worked for six months to raise $11,500 for the black granite stone with the names of 38 Oxford County soldiers who died in Vietnam. It was to be dedicated at Rumford's Veterans Memorial Park.

May said he did serve in the 101st Airborne Division, which saw action at Hamburger Hill. But he says he served from 1979 to 1986, long after the Vietnam War was over. Vietnam fell into Communist hands in 1975.

“I can't explain why I did it,” said May, who said the deception about his military record started in 1991 after he was released from federal prison in Danbury, Conn., for misusing a passport. He said he wanted to put his past behind him.

“I accept full responsibility, but in no way should that deter from the hard work I and Len have done. The vets are still my friends,” May said.

The dedication began to unravel after Mark Cayer, Rumford's acting police chief, confronted May on Monday. Later, Baldacci canceled his appearance, partly because there was

Upton board rejects Umbagog marina appeal

By MICHAEL DANIELS

It's back to the Planning Board for a proposed 24-slip marina on Lake Umbagog's Peasley Cove.

At least that's the current position of the Upton Board of Appeals, which last week rejected an appeal by Bob Folsom and sent his marina plan back to the Planning Board.

But Folsom wants the Appeals Board to reconsider its ruling.

In a letter written the day after the board's decision he requested a reconsideration, contending that the board members misunderstood the advice of the town attorney, and, as a result, “undermined my ability to have due process.”

Folsom's letter marks the latest leg in the to-and-fro regulatory voyage of the marina proposal.

In October the Planning Board approved a sketchy application by Folsom to develop the marina on two adjacent lots he owns, one with 50 feet of frontage on the cove.

But at its next meeting, the following month, the board revoked the permit.

The board cited four reasons for its reversal:

—letters from the Maine Department of Environmental Protection contending that the approval conflicted with state guidelines for municipal shoreland zoning ordinances; —a letter from the town attorney advising that the board had failed to apply the town's Site Plan Review Ordinance;

—acknowledgement by Planning Board members themselves that they had not adequately reviewed the original application under the terms of the town Shoreland Zoning Ordinance; —and their acknowledgement that the initial application submitted by Folsom had been incomplete.

Folsom appealed, claiming his application conformed to the relevant statutes and he had provided all the required

REMEMBERING LLOYD 'JOE' COLE

To the Editor:

I first met "Joe" Cole in 1940 at the beginning of the school year at the Locke Mills Grade School when we both started kindergarten. We continued our schooling together, graduating from Locke Mills Grammar School in 1949, and entering Gould Academy that fall.

Joe had many interests, including fishing, hunting, canoeing, guitar playing, photography, airplanes, woodworking, and Revolutionary War history. He pursued these interests with extraordinary intensity, until he became the best he could be at each of them — or until a new interest took him in another direction.

Two interests I shared with Joe were canoeing and fishing; so about 30 years ago we undertook a fishing trip down Alder River from Chadbourne's Mill in South Bethel to the Alder River Bridge at Route 26 in Bethel. This turned into an absolute nightmare. The river is very well named as there were so many alders they reached clear across the water from one side to the other for much of the trip. Luckily we brought bush cutters and a pruning saw with us. We spent more time sawing our way to Bethel Village than we did paddling. We never did fish, but emptied the canoe twice of limbs and branches that had fallen into the canoe before we finally reached the bridge at sunset. If you want a challenging canoe trip try that one — but, bring a flashlight with you just in case.

Joe's interest in Benedict Arnold's march to Quebec City spilled over to Roland Martin, Curt Martin and me. We made several trips over a couple of years seeking out camping sites used by Arnold's men. We found several near the East Carry Pond area and did dig up a few artifacts from his expedition. A few years later we finished the trip by automobile following the Chaudiere River as closely as we could by road until we reached Quebec City.

One of Joe's favorite pastimes was playing the guitar. I was there from the beginning listening to him and Roland "Tinker" Martin practice chords and notes for hours on end until they could complete a song. Thank God they progressed fairly rapidly, before I lost interest in music forever. Over the years he had attracted several playing partners with varying degrees of talent. As fate would have it I had to endure another 30 years of practice sessions; however, I eventually learned the fine art of occasionally napping during these sessions.

Another one of Joe's passions was to build his own plane and learn how to fly. He started building the plane in his basement workshop several years ago. It went slowly, but eventually he got the wings and fuselage framed and nearly ready for covering. Through an amateur's eye, the plane seemed fragile and I was very grateful that it was only a one-seater — eliminating the need for excuses as to why I didn't want to go up into the great blue yonder as a passenger.

He was very kind hearted, thoughtful, and always willing to assist if you needed help or transportation.

Joe will surely be missed by his many friends, but he leaves memories that will last forever.

SHY, NOVICE, CLOSETED ART

To the Editor:

This coming July 7 celebrates the third annual Shy, Novice and Closeted Art Show. The past two years has been a wonderful success of over 50 persons, ages 8 to 83 showing their art. The intent of this show is to encourage and support the shy, the novice and the closeted artist. One person's art oftentimes is another person's godsend.

To participate you need to be either shy, novice or closeted with regard to your artwork and then bring it by in time to be hung for the July 7 show. For more information, please contact me at 824-3889.

FOOTBALL BASH THANKS

To the Editor:

The Greenwood Spartans and Woodstock Wolfpack youth football programs are most grateful to all who helped to make last Saturday's first annual Football Bash such a success. It's safe to say that the participation and enthusiasm witnessed ensures that a second annual spring bash will follow next May!

In particular, we thank the Jackson-Silver Post, Breau's Too of Bryant Pond for pizza, the parents for support, the coaches and staff for organizing, and certainly the players and friends for their spirit. We closed the day feeling very encouraged about the state of the program and its future. We just ask local football fans to circle on their calendars June 23 for our Yard Sale (more details later) and Aug. 18 to join us for the Patriots Alumni Weekend here in Bethel when 10 former New England Patriot players will come to spend time with our youth and community to support our programs. Again, to all involved with last weekend, thank you very much.

HEALTH AND SAFETY FAIR THANKS

To the Editor:

I would like to thank all of the people from outside our Woodstock School family who contributed to our Woodstock School Health and Safety Fair last Saturday. It was nice to have support from the greater Bethel community.

Those who pitched in to make our fair a success included Louisa from Healing Touch Therapeutic Massage, Vickie from SpiritWings, Donna from Therapeutic Massage in Andover, and Joan from Touch of a Dove in Mexico. I would also like to thank Kate Goldberg, Peter Kuzyk, Chris Cole, Ray Wakefield, and Kim (from Androscoggin Home Care) for the time they took out of their busy lives to help out. And of course a big thank you to the Woodstock School staff and WPTA members who made it all possible to begin with.

It was a fun day, and none of it would have happened without such a wonderful group effort. Thanks to all.

AIR NATIONAL GUARD MISHAPS

To the Editor:

As good citizens, we all want our military to be the very best and we support them fully in their efforts on our behalf. To achieve the best overall result in this complex task, we must evaluate all issues and alternatives carefully, especially when matters of readiness impact civilian safety and well-being.

The Otis Air National Guard unit in Massachusetts has extended the time limit for public comment on their request to lower the altitude floor from 2,500 to 500 feet over the "Condor Military Operations Area." That area extends from Bethel to Rangeley. When considering such a request, an important aspect would be the history of incidents related to those training areas.

I Googled the topic and found a link (Search: "Air National Guard Fires") to multiple news stories regarding a fire in New Jersey last week caused by an Air National Guard F-16. In addition to this most recent incident, history of other incidents gives cause for great concern. From LA Times, May 20, 2007:

—April 1999: A-10 jet dropped dummy bomb in the New Jersey pinelands. 12,000 acres burned.

—June 2001: bomb dropped by a NJANG F-16; 1,600 acres burned.

—Jan. 2002: F-16 crashed near the Garden State Parkway; third such crash since 1992.

—Nov. 2004: 25 F-16 cannon rounds fired at a New Jersey school. (empty, no injuries)

Incidents like these happen despite sincere assurances that safety is first priority. That means that the proposal we're considering now for the local "Condor" area requires prompt action by our Board of Selectmen and state representatives to gather much needed information for public awareness. We must be: a) informed on all relevant aspects, b) allowed time to process the information, c) helped with procedures to submit informed public comment.

I have submitted a request to Selectboard Chairman Stan Howe, Town Manager Cole and State Rep. Tim Carter for action on this issue, including a starting list of items required for informed citizen discussion.

Local Memorial Day services

ANDOVER—Memorial Day Services will be at 9 a.m. on the Town Common, conducted by the Knights of Pythias. The Rev. Jane Rich and Pastor Ken Wagstaff will be the speakers.

BETHEL—Parade forms up at 10:30 a.m. in front of Kelly's Auto Parts (Legion, scouts, Ma-hoosuc Community Band, and other marchers). Parade steps off, led by Mundt-Allen Post 81 Commander Norman Clanton, marches up Main Street to traffic circle, left up Broad Street, around the common and halts at the monument end of the common for the program. 11:10 a.m. (approximately) program begins at the common, with invocation by the Rev. Ginger Rickerman, music by the Ma-hoosuc Community Band and Four on a Match, introduction of Miss Poppy, address by Pastor Chuck Mason, salute to fallen heroes, benediction and taps.

GREENWOOD—At 9 a.m. a parade will step off from the Jackson-Silver Post on the Gore Road, and proceed to the common by the monument in Locke Mills. The parade will then proceed to the cemetery on Route 26. Afterward there will be refreshments at the Legion post.

EAST BETHEL—A ceremony will take place at the East Bethel Cemetery at 11 a.m.

WEST PARIS—Lineup for the Memorial Day parade will be at 10:45 a.m. on Maple Street. Grand Marshals will be Myron Pierce and Lenwood "Pete" Andrews. The parade will step off at 11 a.m., marching to the center of the village where it will stop for the Salute to the Flag and the Star-Spangled Banner. It will then proceed to the bridge for a prayer by Pastor Lloyd Waterhouse, and the placing of flowers in the river by the Legion Auxiliary. The parade will then about face and march to the cemetery. There will be a prayer by Pastor Bruce Tyner, and the Memorial Day address will be given by Pastor Waterhouse. There will be a memorial tribute by bagpiper Randy Mills, the introduction of the Grand Marshals and a presentation of flowers to them. Bertha DeHaas will read "Flanders Fields." Auxiliary members will decorate graves, followed by a gun salute by Legion members and taps by a school trumpeter. The parade will then march back to the veterans' monuments in the park, where there will be a prayer by Pastor Waterhouse. Auxiliary members will decorate the monuments, followed by "Amazing Grace" by Mills, Emery Ryerson's "Veteran's Prayer" tribute, and "God Bless America," sung by all. Following the events there will be refreshments at the Finnish-American Hall on Maple Street. In case of rain ceremonies will take place inside the West Paris Grange Hall on Church Street. The parade is sponsored by the Ring-McKeen Post 151 American Legion Auxiliary.

WOODSTOCK—At 1 p.m. a ceremony, sponsored by the Bryant Pond Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, will be held at the Honor Roll near the Grange Hall. The program will include an address by Stephen Seames, the Gettysburg Address, Logan's Address, an essay by a fourth-grader, and music by the Ma-hoosuc Community Band. The parade will then travel to the Lakeside Cemetery. A veterans' memorial prayer will be offered, along with taps and a 21-gun salute. Boy Scouts, the Jackson-Silver American Legion Post 68 and school children are expected to take part. Refreshments will be served afterward.

Willard three-event Big Ten champ

PARK RIDGE, Ill.—Anna Willard of Greenwood, a member of the University of Michigan Track Team, won three individual events at the 2007 Big Ten Outdoor Track and Field Championships last week. She set a meet record in the 3,000-meter steeplechase with a career-best time of 9:57.90. The graduate/senior also won the 1,500- and 5,000-meter runs. She was named the women's Track Athlete of the Year and of the Championships. Willard and her team will compete in the NCAA Mid-east Regionals this weekend in Missouri. She is a 2002 graduate of Telstar High School.

TMS Fine Arts Experience May 30

BETHEL—Telstar Middle School students will showcase their visual and performing arts accomplishments at the third annual Fine Arts Experience on Wednesday, May 30. The art exhibit will open at 5 p.m., and the chorus and band performances will begin at 6:30 p.m. The event is free and open to the public, and refreshments will be provided. In addition to more than 300 student artworks, the "Make-A-Square, Make-A-Wish" community art project will be on display in the hallway. This project is Telstar's final fundraising effort for the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Maine. Students worked to tie-dye large pieces of fabric, which were then cut into 900 quilting squares. Donors can sponsor a square for $2 and then personalize it with a permanent marker. As squares have been sponsored, they have been hung in the hallway on a long clothesline. Over the last two weeks, the brightly colored squares have been filling the hallway, demonstrating the fundraising progress. Telstar staff, students, and parent volunteers have been working all year to raise $5,000 for the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Maine in order to fully fund the wish of one child with a life-threatening medical condition. This project represents the last $1,800 of this effort, and there is now less than $200 needed to reach this goal. After all 900 squares are sponsored, students will work with local volunteers to sew them into a large quilt which will be presented to the child whose wish is granted.

Trails: What's in it for us?

BETHEL—The Bethel Area Trails committee and the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce will co-sponsor an open discussion entitled "Trails: What's in it for Business and the Economy?" for community members involved in business, development, and trails, on Friday, June 1 from 8:15 to 9:45 a.m. at the Gehring House/Lewin Center on Upper Broad Street. The focus of the meeting will be on developing strategies to use trails and recreational resources to advance our economy, as a follow-up to the recent presentation on Trails as an Economic & Community Development Strategy presented on May 18th at the Bethel Inn. Key findings included research that trails are the number-one amenity affecting home buyers aged 55 and older, and that there is an $8,000 to $20,000 premium for real estate located in close proximity to a high quality trail. Significant direct and indirect contributions to local business revenues in several areas with trail systems were also detailed. There is no charge and the event is open to anyone interested in the topic. Coffee/tea will be available. An R.S.V.P. by May 31 to the Chamber is requested (824-2282 or email to: info@bethelmaine.com). Bethel Area Trails is a committee of the Mahoosuc Land Trust; detailed information can be found at: www.thebetheljournals.info/Trails/betheltrails.htm.

See sunrise on Mt. Washington

PINKHAM NOTCH—The Mt. Washington Auto Road will open early on two Sundays this season, on July 1 and Aug. 5, allowing guests to drive themselves to the summit of Mt. Washington to view the sunrise from the highest peak in the Northeast. On July 1, the Auto Road will open at 4 a.m. and open at 4:30 a.m. on Aug. 5, allowing guests to arrive early enough in time to watch the sun come up over the Atlantic Ocean. Regular drive-yourself rates and vehicle restrictions apply.

Ski area visits nationwide drop

LAKEWOOD, Colo.—Based on preliminary estimates, ski areas nationwide tallied 54.8 million visits for the 2006/07 season, down 6.9 percent from last season's recorded-setting 58.9 million visits, according to the National Ski Areas Association (NSAA). Over the last 10 seasons (1997/98 – 2006/07), national visitation has averaged 55.54 million visits. The 2006/07 season, at 54.82 million visits, represents a 1.3 percent decrease from this 10-year average. Abnormally warm temperatures and below average snowfall impacted most areas of the country except the Rocky Mountain region. The Southeast and Pacific West each reported visitation declines of about 16.5 percent. The Northeast and Midwest both rebounded significantly in the second half of the season due to strong spring snowfall, with the Northeast reporting an overall decline of 6.7 percent and the Midwest a decline of 5.9 percent. In contrast, the Rocky Mountain region managed an increase in visits, setting a new record of 20.9 million visits, accounting for about 38 percent of the nation's total visits. Analysis of reported skier visits by time of season indicates the November/December and Christmas Holiday periods were particularly weak in most regions of the country, with some exceptions. The January through mid-February time frames were also generally below last year's level, with the Midwest the only exception. Recovery began more broadly in late February, and the late March through end of season time frames showed pockets of strength in several regions. A skier/snowboarder visit is defined as one person visiting a ski area for all or part of a day or night, and includes full- and half-day, night, complimentary, adult, child, season and other types of tickets. The NSAA's End-of-Season Survey visitation data reflect the results of 182 of the nation's 486 operating ski resorts. The final report will be available in August. For more go to nsaa.org.

And the tax bill on the property more than doubled, increasing from $3,612 to $7,752, despite the lower tax rate.

By contrast another property, a home located off a dirt road up in the hills, increased in value by a relatively modest 18 percent, from $70,120 to $83,050.

And as a result of the small increase in valuation and the town's new, much lower tax rate, the tax bill on the property dropped from $1,244 to a projected $851.

Spark said the Town Office and assessor have received 40 to 50 calls regarding the new valuations, nearly all from property owners who feel their new valuations (and thus their tax bills) are too high.

"They want to know how their valuations were calculated," Sparks said. "Some people have said that with the slowdown in the real estate market, there's no way they could sell their properties for the assessed prices."

So far three dozen property owners have made appointments to discuss their new valuations with the assessor, John E. O'Donnell & Associates of New Gloucester.

Environment-friendly lawn care

Expectations for lush lawns run high all summer long. Instead of battling it out for the best lawn on the street, Gary Fish, coordinator of the Maine YardScaping Partnership (www.yardscaping.org), says to consider lowering your expectations of lawn perfection, and raising your lawnmower blade instead.

"People are fanatics about their lawns," says Fish. "It's radical for a lot of people to embrace the idea of a less-than-perfect lawn. But ecologically conscious Mainers have already caught on to the benefits. We're hoping more people get the message that a healthy lawn is a noble expectation."

Here are some tasks to get you "growing" in the right direction this summer:

1) A Mindful Mower. Raise the mower blade to three inches high. Root growth is only as deep as the grass blade is high. Mowing higher promotes root growth, reduces weeds like crabgrass and dandelions, helps the lawn through dry periods and discourages insects. A credit card is a handy mowing gauge — it's a little over three inches in length.

2) Cut to the Chase. Keep mower blades sharp to prevent water loss and fungal disease. Do the finger test. If it doesn't crease your finger when you press on the blade, it's not sharp enough.

3) Grass Cycling. Don't deny your lawn a free lunch — leave your grass clippings behind. They provide turf with a helping of nitrogen, and decrease weeds and water loss by acting as natural mulch.

4) Seed, Seed, Seed. Nature abhors a vacuum and will jump at the chance to cover bare spots with weeds. Keep a bag of good seed (50 percent perennial rye and 50 percent creeping red fescue) handy and reseed bare spots as soon as they develop. Avoid the use of herbicides by preventing weeds from starting in the first place.

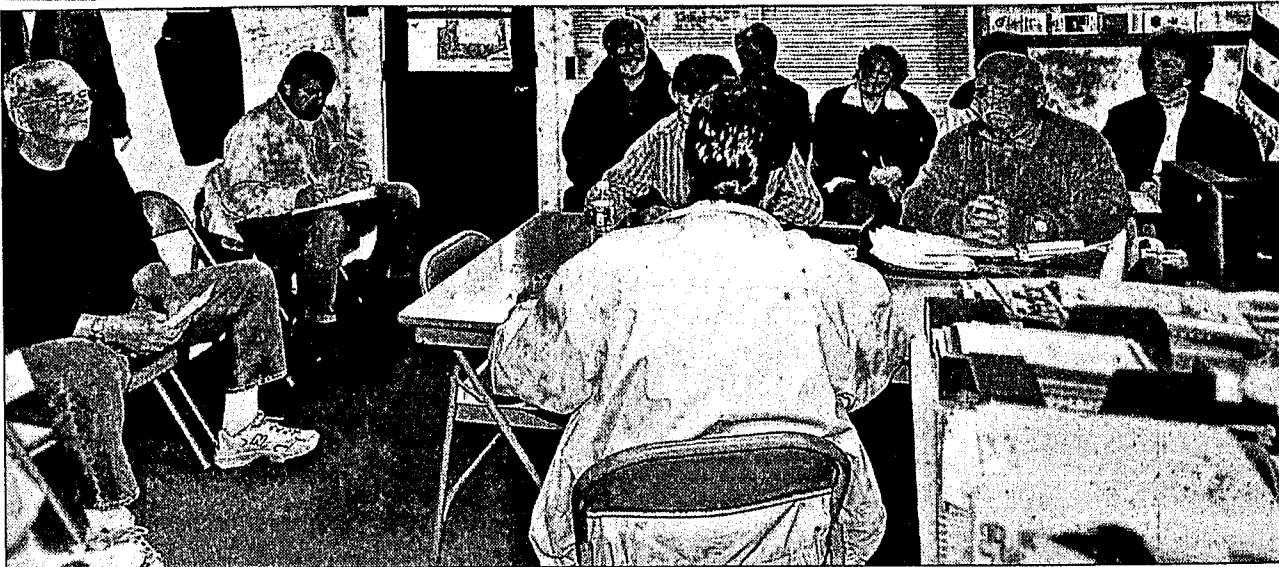

5) Pest Warfare. Before you swat, stamp or spray, use common sense pest control. Let the phrase "some weed and insect pests are okay" be your motto. Try growing insect resistant grass varieties, pulling weeds by hand, fighting bugs with bugs, and if using pesticides, spot treat only.

6) A Soil Test is Your Lawn's Best Friend. For $12 and a box of your dirt, you can find out your soil's secrets. This simple test analyzes fertility, pH, and lets you know if adjustments are needed. Maine soils are typically too acid for lawn grass. If your test confirms this, sweeten the soil with palletized limestone. Test kits are available from your local Cooperative Extension and Soil & Water Conservation Districts.

APPEAL DISCUSSION

He also raised procedural questions concerning the Planning Board's handling of the matter.

On April 6 the Appeals Board met for two hours to consider the appeal.

The board took testimony from attorneys and other speakers for and against the marina proposal, then adjourned until last Friday.

The follow-up meeting took less than 10 minutes.

Chairman Brian Knightly asked his two fellow members, Wayne Taylor and Lionel Roy, to state their views on the matter.

Both agreed the Planning Board had erred in granting the permit, primarily because the members had not been provided with enough "pertinent information" (Taylor).

Knightly concurred. "I am in agreement with both these gentlemen that [Folsom] didn't have ample information at the time he put the permit in," the chairman said, "and it shouldn't have been issued, and it definitely should have been revoked."

The members then voted unanimously to refer the matter back to the Planning Board.

They did so, however, without directing the planners to either accept or reject the application.

And by failing to do so, Folsom argues, the Appeals Board denied him due process.

"It is true that the Appeals Board cannot issue a permit, but they can remand back to the Planning Board with issue the permit or not to, depending on the preponderance of the evidence," he wrote.

Appeals Board Chairman Knightly said Wednesday he planned to consult with the town attorney on how to handle the reconsideration request.

Center

a member of the board, said that an emphasis on social justice and action research, "which were part of NTL's beginnings and have not been as visible in recent years, are being given new energy through the Lewin Center."

Davis, program director for the center, said many of the programs under development would involve graduate students or practitioner/scholars in various social research fields.

Two major Lewin events have been scheduled for the fall, she said: a Kurt Lewin Colloquium from Oct. 12-14 and a Colloquium Nov. 26-30 on Human Dignity and Humiliation, featuring educator Evelyn Lindner.

Both events will have "a component involving Bethelites," said Davis.

In addition board member Don Klein, author of "New Vision, New Reality: A Guide to Unleashing Energy, Joy, and Creativity in Your Life," is planning a mini-conference in Bethel for community members.

"There will always be ways that Bethel citizens will be invited to participate," she said.

A version of Sunrise Seminars (offered in the past by NTL) will continue, sponsored by both NTL and the Lewin Center.

NTL will also continue to offer some of its programs at the center, Davis said. Among this summer's programs are "Creating and Sustaining High Performing Teams," "Interpersonal Skills for Leadership Success," and "Holding on and Letting Go: at Work, with Relationships, and in Life."

A local subcommittee of the center's Bethel Committee is also exploring possibilities for other programming of a more local nature, Davis said.

Already, she said, several weekly Western Maine Senior College and Goose-eye Institute for Creative Economy classes are taking place at Geh-ring. Many local groups also hold meetings or retreats.

"On the more day-to-day level, the Gehring House will continue to offer a versatile venue for a host of local educational activities and programs," said Davis.

Working on the building
As plans for programming continue, work is also underway on the house and grounds.

"There is excitement about the grounds and gardens of the Gehring estate," said Davis. "A team of volunteers is formulating a plan for multiple projects, beginning with improving the existing gardens and re-invigorating a variety of plantings, some of them historically noteworthy. Eventually new plantings will be carefully considered."

Inside, said Davis, "an ambitious program of maintenance on the house has been completed, including repairs, attention to safety issues and improvement of systems. Now a schedule of larger improvements and restoration is being planned, and major funding will be sought."

Davis said that currently the center has several revenue sources, including contributions, programming tuition and rental fees.

"We will soon be doing serious soliciting of funds from foundations," she said.

Davis said community members are encouraged to volunteer to help at the house, or request further information.

"We are particularly looking for folks to help out in the gardens," she said.

Davis may be contacted at 256-6956 or nancydavis@megalink.net.

Other members of the Bethel Committee include William Andrews, Gwyneth Bohr, Allen Connors, Don Coverdale, Al Cressy, Ginger Kelly, Bonnie Pooley, John Shorb, Jan Stowell, Dick Taylor, Jeanie Waite, Nancy White, Steve Wight and Robin Zinchuk.

The Lewin Center website (www.lewincenter.org) should be online within days, Davis said.

MAY 24 2007

From the Bethel Police Log:

Wednesday, May 23

At 1:17 a.m. while conducting business checks on Route 2, Officers T.J. Reese and Scott Landis found a front door open. They checked the area and closed the door.

Tuesday, May 22

At 2:30 a.m. Officers Scott Landis and T.J. Reese responded to the Flat Road for a report that an intoxicated person was kicking a car and house door. On arrival the subject had fled.

At 1 p.m. Chief Alan Carr took a request for a harassment notice to be issued.

Monday, May 21

At 12:15 a.m. on the Walkers Mills Road Officers T.J. Reese and Scott Landis arrested Rexford C. Cummings, 53, of Bethel for OUI. He was also charged with resisting arrest and was given a speeding ticket.

At 10:20 a.m. Chief Alan Carr issued a no-trespass order to a subject on Main Street.

At 5:45 p.m. Officer Jack Taylor responded to a Railroad Street business for a report of young children stealing items.

Sunday, May 20

At 4 a.m. Officer T.J. Reese stopped a subject on Vernon Street for speeding. Danna R. Wilson, 18, of Greenwood was given a summons for operating with a suspended registration.

At 7:15 a.m. Officer Travis Fillmore responded to the Intervale Road for a report of a loose dog. On arrival the complainant threatened to shoot it the next time it got loose. The subject said he could shoot the dog to protect his property, but the officer said he could not unless the animal attacked. The owner came to pick up the animal.

At 6:30 p.m. on the Farmhouse Hill Road Lt. S.R. White arrested Todd T. Davis, 31, and Nikki Davis, 32, both of Bethel, for domestic assault on each other.

At 9:15 p.m. Officer T.J. Reese and Lt. S.R. White assisted a sheriff's deputy in Woodstock with two intoxicated subjects walking along the road.

Friday, May 18

At 9:30 a.m. Chief Alan Carr responded to the Grover Hill Road for a two-vehicle, property-damage accident.

At 11:35 a.m. Chief Alan Carr responded to the Rabbit Road for a report of a disorderly subject. The complainant said someone had driven a vehicle onto his land and got it stuck. When he approached the driver, the driver became upset and started shouting. The driver then left in another vehicle.

At 9:30 p.m. Lt. S.R. White responded to Route 232 for a report of a moped driving on the road without taillights. The officer located it in a garage. The owner said he had been trying to get it running properly. He was advised to stay off the road in the dark.

At 10:05 p.m. Officer Scott Landis responded to the Walkers Mills Road for a report of an intoxicated driver. The officer stopped the driver and found him to be tired, not intoxicated.

Thursday, May 17

At 3:30 p.m. Lt. S.R. White responded to the airport for a report of a suspicious subject. On arrival he found a pilot from out of town.

Bob and Ginny Keniston, Rachel and Ted McKnight of Vermont, Jon and Lennie Shaw attended Jeni Shaw's graduation at the University of Maine-Farmington on Saturday, May 12. Jeni graduated with honors.

Stephen Seames will be speaker at the Memorial Day service at Bryant Pond at 1 p.m.

Carol Nielsen will be back from Florida on Wednesday and will be living with Amy Davis.

Colwyn Haskell was guest of honor at a Birthday Party Sunday evening at his home. Those attending were Kathy and Mike Davis, Jean and Craig Waite, Alex Davis and friend Meg, and Amy Davis.

Brooks Bros., Inc. is having a new coat of paint.

Ginny Walker visited her granddaughter, Melissa Walker, in New Sharon on Mother's Day.

The Cross Country Quilters enjoyed an outing to Bath on Thursday, visiting the Yarn Factory and many other interesting places. Those attending were June Abbott, Lucy Nordahl, Diane Smith, Shireen Vincent and Ginger Kelly.

The Riverside Cemetery is in serious trouble and needs help. Contributions are welcomed.

Renovations are going on at the former Stan Gallant and Demerit residence on Mechanic Street.

Our Forest Service people must be sleeping easier now that we have been dampened (maybe drenched) with over three inches of rain as of this weekend's end.

Ross Timberlake showed me around the Timberlakes' new facility — a refuge for artisans, or are they craftspeople? The interior is designed to allow visitors entering the building's "foyer" a chance to view the work area through traditional small-pane windows set into the wall that partitions the work area from the entrance. Ross designed this feature to allow morning light into the work area. I asked Ross about where some of their current work is headed. He said one job is going to the Isle Au Haute and one to Manhattan. I said, "Where is the Isle of Haute? Please spell it. It is an island east of Vin-alhaven. No ferry service is available so Ross is looking for a boat and captain to deliver the order. Which order will be the least expensive and simple to deliver — Manhattan or Isle Au Haute?"

the meeting was devoted to planned construction on the cemetery's riverbank this summer. A four-member committee was formed to look out for the association's interests during the life of this project. Roger Conant, association treasurer, has the responsibility for guaranteeing that the local fund obligation will be met so that lack of funding will not hold up the construction work. One job of the new committee will be to find money sources that can contribute to the so-called "local match." Since the damage was part of a flood-incurred disaster, and federal funds have been appropriated, the committee will be seeing what the state and town governments can do for their part of the "local match." The other major concern of the association is that trucks and heavy equipment might do more damage to the burial ground while attempting to fix the erosion damage.

This past week Chadbourne Tree Farms has been logging on the company's woodlot in North Mayville.

Rooster's Roadhouse owners have been busy touching up their "curb appeal" with a fenced entrance gate motif. They have also hung a lattice-work frame on the main building — simple artwork, good eye-catcher.

Hummingbirds entertained us this week. We had one feeder at first; one feisty character stood guard from dawn to dusk on a nearby branch and drove all others away. Since then we have put up another feeder. Feeder number two soon acquired its own patron who chases away intruders. Indigo buntings are back; they nest in our "land before time" along the riverbank and come to our feeder in the late afternoon.

Kathy and I joined the early shoppers at the new Wal-Mart in Berlin. We were very well impressed with this store — dormer windows in the facade and a mixture of store fronts greet the shopper walking in from the parking area. Nicer appearance than just the so-called big box Wal-Mart. Wider aisles in the departments were much appreciated.

Gas jumped to $3.12 a gallon on Sunday. Question is — at what point will gas prices be high enough to bring back rail passenger service to Portland? Any wagers?

Last Saturday the river was up. Old-timers would say that "the river is at a good driving pitch." This was the season for big log drives all the way from Wilsons Mills passing through Bethel (and of course, Mayville) on the way to Lewiston. Here are some excerpts from The Bethel Journals:

"May 22, 1891, from Bethel: The rain Saturday and Monday gave a good driving pitch to the Androscoggin River. Mr. Allen, foreman of the Bearce & Wilson drives, pitched his tents near the mouth of the Alder River, Monday night. From Gilead, June 24, 1890, The Canton Drive (to mills at Canton) passed here Friday with 45 men and ten horses. May 14, 1889, at Bethel, Six white tents at the mouth of Alder River signaled the presence of the river drivers. C.F. Allen in charge of Bearce & Wilson's drive and C.W. McPherson with the Androscoggin Water Power Company's logs have the rear near Bethel village. The water is so low that driving is very difficult. The thermometer has been in the nineties all the week in Bethel. And from Newry, April, 1892, J.A. Thurston has a crew on Stony Brook driving for Leslie Mason. M.L. Thurston has about 200,000 of long lumber now being driven down Bear River. And at Dunn's Notch Mort and Mac Thurston are beginning operations with close up to three millions to handle." In May that year weekly news reported that Wilson of Bearce & Wilson Co. was at Wilson's Mills overseeing the start of their company's log drive.

And readers write: "We'll claim the kite flying. The kids spent Mother's Day at a cook-out here and the string got away from them and tangled in a tree! Yes, it was high. They enjoyed the breeze and sunny afternoon." Cindy Savage

From the Wights in Dayton: "It happened on your articles in the Bethel Citizen online today for the first time! It is neat seeing what is going on up there! We were up that way last summer, for a quick visit. Don't know if we will get there this year or not. Anyway, just wanted to say hello! I didn't realize you were so close to us down here. The weather down here is still pretty nice. Of course, we get the sea breeze every day, which makes things very pleasant. If you ever get to Daytona, look us up! Just wanted to say Hello!" Once again the birds have kept us quite entertained this past week.

The rose-breasted grosbeaks are still visiting the feeder and I have counted four males and females. In all the years I have fed birds, I have never seen more than one male Baltimore oriole at once. This past week, I got to see two of them at the same time and what I thought were two females turned out to be a female and a first-year male. The first-year male does not have the bright orange but is a little more colorful than the female. That was the first surprise of the week and then Hugh noticed a beautiful blue male indigo bunting at the feeder. I have not seen one of those for quite some time, but it only got better when, last Sunday, I noticed two of them on the feeder. It would be nice to see a different bird each week, but I'm not sure how many more I could expect to show up. The only kind that I have seen in the past and I have not seen yet this year, is the scarlet tanager. I will keep hoping.

The Gilead Historical Society met on Saturday at the Town Hall, which is next door to my house, and some of the members got to see the birds that were showing up at the

WET STRETCH CREATES, SWELLS WATERWAYS

Several days of intermittent rain led to a mudslide (right) that closed Route 113 through Evans Notch for a time Monday morning, about a mile from Route 2. The section of road has seen slides before, but this one, which carried several boulders into the road, was somewhat worse than usual, according to an MDOT crew who fixed it. The road was reopened in late morning. Below, the Androscoggin rose high along its banks near Davis Park in Bethel.

Dan Cole has had Baltimore orioles at his feeder also. They seem to like a little grape jelly along with their oranges. He noticed that a woodpecker was enjoying the oranges too.

Capt. Stephen McLain, son of Steve and Lise McLain, has completed his course in Syracuse, N.Y. He returned home to his family in Hattiesburg, Miss.

Hugh and I called Howard and Stevie Reiche this past weekend to see how things are going. They are doing fine.

My husband, Hugh, was a day surgical patient at Maine Med in Portland last week. It is hard to believe that he could enter the hospital in the morning, have back surgery and return home that evening. He is doing quite well, but it will be a while before he is out and about much.

Marissa Corriveau, daughter of Fernand and Holly Corriveau of Albany Twp., is on the dean's list at University of New England, Biddeford. Marissa is the granddaughter of Fernand and Beverley Corriveau of Gilead.

Celia Broomhall from the Bog Road sent an e-mail to say that they had just got back from Randy's college graduation from Alfred University in western New York state. Along the way they saw a car with Connecticut plates that said GILEAD! They wondered if there was a connection to here, but did not get a chance to find out.

Condolences go out to the family of Jeannette Marr of Rumford. She was the sister of Fernand Corriveau of Gilead, Yvon Corriveau of Gilead, Denis Corriveau of Canton and Lauriat Corriveau of Greenwood.

Planning Board

The June Regular Meeting of Gilead Planning Board is scheduled for Tuesday, June 5, starting at 7 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Town Hall and will be open to the public. Agendas will be posted at the Transfer Station, Town Hall and Town Office prior to the meeting. A steering committee is being formed to coordinate updating of the Comprehensive Plan. Please contact Jack Puca at 836-2729 for more information.

The GHS met on May 19 at the Town Hall. There were ten members who attended the planning meeting for the June 23 Friends and Family Day. Jill Bujnowski is working on the Schedule of the Day's events. The parade will be at 10 a.m. on Depot Street. The theme of the parade is "Nursery Rhymes." Bobo the Clown will be there again this year to entertain the children. The big tent will be set up for people to gather under, have lunch and listen to music. The popular Skillet Toss will return with three divisions: Men's, Women's, and Kids. There will also be kids' games going on mid-day.

Some of the events going on throughout the day are a 50/50 raffle, silent auction, yard sale (items are needed), historical displays, nonprofit and historical society displays, and a fire

by Lorrie Hoeh

Last week the trailing arbutus was in bloom, and the lady-slippers were starting to peek through. This Monday morning I saw several about five or six inches high. Last Tuesday as I crossed paths with John Applin as we did our morning walk/run, we both heard a loud squawking from a marshy area, stopped, and tried to figure it out. The mystery was solved when we heard the familiar gulp/hiccup call of the American bittern.

Sightings at our feeders included an oriole, multiple rose-breasted grosbeaks, and an indigo bunting, in addition to hordes of goldfinches, chickadees, nuthatches, and various woodpeckers, including a yellow-bellied sapsucker. At one point there were five male rose-breasted grosbeaks on the feeders at once!

Maureen Libby called me on Sunday to tell me that her Pumpkin had given birth to a female cria, with a little help from Dr. Matt Holden of Oxford Veterinary Hospital. That makes three females for the Sunday River Alpaca herd this spring. They are all so cute that I'm sure many of you would enjoy stopping there to see them. There is one more baby due sometime in June.

The West Bethel Union Church had a surprise shower after services on Sunday, for another kind of baby. Kathy DeGruttola is expecting and was completely surprised by her church friends. She received a variety of gifts, enough to fill the trunk of the car. Dad-to-be Dave was given a hunting vest, converted for daddy's use by having its pockets filled with things like baby lotion and powder, and the game pocket in back, with disposable diapers. One of Kathy's gifts was a knitted baby blanket with the needles still in it, since there were still a few more rows to knit!

Continuing on the theme of births, Don Vautour, formerly of the Flat Road, celebrated his 71st birthday on Saturday. Our heartiest best wishes go to Don. He and Connie moved to Waterboro a few years back in order to be closer to their children and other family members.

An e-mail from Gail Martin caught me up on some of their family news. They are hoping to spend as much time as possible at their Flat Road camp this summer. They will soon be vacating their room at their daughter's house, which will be occupied by a new baby in October. Happy news for all. The Martins' oldest grandson, Dylan Martin, will be graduating from South Portland High School on June 10. Other grands will be in grades 10, 8, 6, and 4 in the fall. To quote Gail, "Whew! Good thing there are only five of them!"

By the way, Gail, your worries about dry conditions on Monday the 14th should be washed away by now. It seems as if we had the makings of the Great Flood last week. I was searching for scrap lumber to start an ark. But the sun is out once more, at least on this Monday.

The Cooper family had a wonderful trip during April vacation. Daughter Helen, who received a kidney transplant from her father ten years ago, was eligible for a wish fulfillment from Make-a-Wish Foundation. Make-a-Wish provides wishes for children 18 and under who have life-threatening conditions.

Planning for the trip started last July, with volunteers from the Portland organization coming up here to explain the program. They worked with Helen to help her nail down what she would like to do, and she decided on a Caribbean cruise. Since Helen has no siblings, she was allowed to invite a friend, Samantha Southam, to travel with her and parents, Michael and Betsy. Make-a-Wish handled all the details, making travel arrangements and hotel reservations, etc. Betsy said they were wonderful, and really personalized the program for them.

The Coopers flew out on April 14, between our last two snowstorms, and visited six islands in all, starting with Puerto Rico, then boarding ship on the 15th and cruising on to St. Lucia, Barbados, Antigua, St. Maarten, and St. Thomas.

The ship carried 3,500 passengers and 1,500 crew members. There were several pools, a theater, ice skating rink (!), a water slide. There was also opportunity for snorkeling, the high point of that experience being the sighting of an octopus and a Portuguese man-o-war. Sounds like a never-to-be-forgotten experience.

We are drying out slowly and so far have avoided mildewed body parts. Cold weather is kicking and screaming its way out this spring, with hard freezes still in the offing. Hope you can stay warm on frosty nights, and remember to tell me your news. 836-3011; dhoeh@megalink.net.

Andover

by Melinda
Averill

Hi folks, my apologies for forgetting to put in birthday days last week. It seems, though, I forgot a whole bunch!

A special happy sweet-sixteenth birthday to Katie MacGregor on May 13, and happy one-year birthday to Brooke Lynn Bennett on May 16, and to Autumn Berry on the 18th.

Celebrating birthdays this week are Georgie Wheeler on the 22nd and John Farrington, Mackenzie Irish and Kassey Gammon all on May 23rd.

Get-well wishes to Edward Littlehale, who has been in the hospital in Norway for a few days.

There will be a Memorial Day Service on Monday, May 28, at the Andover Commons. The service will start at 9 a.m. with guest speakers Pastors Jane Rich and Ken Wagstaff. Hopefully, vehicles going by the area during the time of the service will be considerate, slow down and be quiet.

The Food Pantry, located at the Town Hall, will be open on Mondays from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. For emergencies, you can contact Pam Pace at 392-2390.

The Transfer Station update meeting will be held on Thursday, May 31, at 7 p.m. at the Town Hall. The date was reported wrong last week.

Paula Smith recently returned from visiting Josh Putnum and family in Charlotte, S.C., and John Putnum and family in Weaverville, N.C. She also attended a high school reunion at Lake Lure, N.C.

OFF AND RUNNING—More than 200 runners/walkers took part in the Community and Family 5K race, held recently in Bethel. A grant from Nickelodeon Let's Play Giveaway received by the Maahoosuc Arts Council helped make the event, organized by the Western Maine Girls Association, possible.

Congratulations to sixth-grader Joshua Rainey, and seventh-grader Izaak Mills, for making the honor roll at Mountain Valley Middle School. Nice work!

This is Andover Alumni Weekend. On Saturday is the annual banquet at the Elementary School, and on Sunday is Baccalaureate at the first Congregational Church. The service starts at 10 a.m.

This past weekend, starting May 18 into Saturday, May 19, a number of ASC members participated in the overnight American Cancer Society's Relay for Life held at Hosmer Field, Rumford. ASC members involved as organizers were Evelyn Bodemer (of "The Driven Women and Company" walking team) and Ruby Kulp (of "The Survivors' Table"). As in previous years, rain and cold did not stop ASC-sponsored walkers Colleen Jaros, Judy Michaud and Andrea Bretz Savitz. Also, past Andover resident Betzee Lozier contributed her time and effort.

Andrea Bretz Savitz, president of Andover Service Circle (ASC), tells me that the roadside Andover Community Clean-up Day on May 12 was a great success. On that beautiful Saturday, a collaborated effort was put forth by the Circle and the Roxbury ATV Riders Club. The two organizations were joined by resident volunteers Dianne Cutting, Abby Mills, Izaak Mills, and Eda Perkins. Spotted among the ATV club members were Andover's Russell Hilton and Victor Peterson. The ATVs allowed for much better coverage of Andover's roads. And aside from good fellowship and good refreshments, the really remarkable thing about that day is that the members of the Roxbury ATV Riders Club who volunteered included many people from out of town. On behalf of ASC and the Town of Andover, Andrea wishes to thank the Roxbury ATV Riders Club and all resident volunteers for a job well done.

A special happy birthday wish today to Michelle G.! Have a nice weekend.

The Bethel Philatelic Club will meet on May 29 at 2 p.m. at the O'Neil Robinson House.

The Annual Meeting of the East Bethel Church Association will be held on Monday, May 28, at the church at 7 p.m. Everyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

Roberta Jean Grover, granddaughter of Jean Grover, received a B.S. degree from Husson College in business administration on May 12. Jean Grover, Doug and Bertha Grover, Grace Devon and Jayme Leigh Grover attended the graduation ceremony. Afterward everyone retired to James and Beth McLeod's home in Glenburn for a nice luncheon.

Mary Bean, Arthur Hertell, Rudi and Barbara Honkala and Millie Jackson went to the Finnish-American supper at the Finnish-American Hall in West Paris on May 19.

Only two ladies showed up Saturday to do cemetery work, and Sunday two men came along to help. It was really too wet to do much. The plastic stuff was cleaned up and hauled off. Gloria and I, and maybe Paul, will try to do some work in the afternoons to get the cemetery done up—1 p.m.

God Bless the Troops.

A SEASONED CANINE PERFORMER—Bronson, a guide dog for Lynn Mason of Bethel, took a bow with the cast last month at a performance of "Shear Madness" at the Lincoln Center in Washington, D.C. The play, the longest-running in the U.S., features an audience-participation segment as part of the production, and Bronson, seated in the first row, became a participant. When it came time for the curtain call, he was called up on stage. It's not his first time — he played a role in a recent Senior Players stage production in Bethel.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

The bears are back. Howard Pond Road residents Peter Baker and Barbara Butler have reported mauling bears at birdfeeders. At Plumbago Mountain Farm a bear attempted a take over the chicken coop but Samuel T. Brown III started the bear into taking refuge in a tree. Indigo bunnings have been seen at local birdfeeders lately.

John and Marjorie Hanawalt have returned to their South Shore Road property.

In Knights of Pythias news local area Pythians attended a 100th anniversary celebration at Alva Young Temple in Brunswick last Sunday. Those attending from this area were Freeman Farrington, East Andover; Craig Turner and Donna and Clem Worcester of Hanover; and Janice and Danny Bennett from Milton Twp.

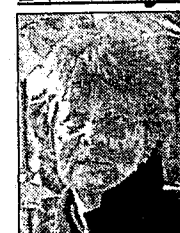

Cabot Lodge Knights of Pythias from Andover is providing a Memorial Day Service at the town green in Andover on Monday, May 28. The annual event is usually well attended.

Joan Tucker is now at Cedar's Rehabilitation and Living Center on Ocean Avenue in Portland. She is recovering from surgery earlier this month.

Newry

by Sylvia Harrington

On Friday, the 11th, Johan and Rebecca Schwind and I headed for Kilmeshia Lake and Monticello, N.Y. We were going to see my sister, Nancy, for the Mother's Day weekend. We returned home on Monday very tired from a busy trip and visit. Rebecca drove both days of each 440-mile drive to and from New York.

On Saturday, we were driven by a friend and taxi driver of Nan's, named Melissa, soon to be Merigiano. We drove up to Liberty and back down to Middleton through Wurtsboro by way of the original Route 17 which is very scenic. By the time we got back to our room at the Best Western in Monticello and after a mid-afternoon lunch at Ruby Tuesday's, we were very tired.

On Sunday, we had a different driver and pretty much repeated the Middleton drive, this time we stopped at Wurtsboro where we found some interesting shops to purchase lots of goodies from. Nan took us to her favorite shoe store where I purchased a very nice and comfortable pair of shoes. We liked Ruby Tuesday's so much that we dined there again at mid-afternoon.

And again we returned to the motel very tired. Our room was located across from the racetrack, so we watched some of the jockeys practicing with their horses and sulkeys. Johan had brought some snacks and playing cards, so we played Liverpool rummy for a while.

On Monday, we met Nan and Melissa and her son, Danny, for breakfast at Tilly's diner, which is next door to the motel. After a few hugs we headed home for Maine.

We stopped quite often on the way back, but made the best time to the Hudson bridge, about 15 minutes earlier than I had ever done it on previous trips. I have always stopped at a beautiful rest area with a scenic view in Bradford, Vt.; so we did too! We arrived in Newry rather later than planned. Johan and Rebecca then drove to Rumford. A day later, Rebecca drove to her home in Hallowell. A very good and interesting four-day trip.

The BRTD is now open till 8 p.m. each day. It will also be open during the Memorial Day weekend. Turkey hunting will be over in another week. The BRTD is also a tagging station.

When I returned home, Sylvia Wight had left me a message. She had been at home with some of her family over Mother's Day weekend.

On the 17th, a beautiful wood duck landed on the deck rail in the same spot the pigeon hawk had landed earlier this spring, but with its webbed feet it didn't stay as long and flew off quickly.

I've had all the spring birds at the feeders. But have seen some strange behavior. A purple finch was dive-bombing one of my favorite birds, a tufted titmouse, who wasn't doing anything but sitting on a tree branch and flying over to some cat fur and string put out for nesting material. Also, in a great Baltimore oriole feeder that Bob Davis had made and given me many years ago, a black-throated blue warbler has been eating the grape jelly for several days and is doing so as I type this. An immature male Baltimore oriole was eating the orange pieces placed under the tin-roofed feeder. Both male and female hummingbirds are back and feeding. Two adult Baltimore orioles were on the hummingbird feeder last week, their weight spilling some of the sugar water (one part sugar to four parts H₂O). They often don't stay around but head further north.

Greenwood City

It's been a hectic two weeks. We have been constantly on the go with one project or function. I expect that it will all add up to happy times in the near future. We have shopped for several new beds and a couch for the Tri-Town Rescue barn. Then had to acquire a new dryer. Seems the old one finally decided to call it quits. The old dryer had been in place for fourteen years and was used prior to that. Guess we can't complain.

The Tri-Town Board and Auxiliary are doing several things to make being on duty at the barn a bit more comfortable. The crew's quarters have been painted. The new beds will make staying overnight much easier on the body. Course there are nights when the beds are used very little due to emergency calls. The auxiliary is providing bedding, curtains, and several other amenities. Next Saturday, the furniture will be delivered and life will be a bit more pleasant for all. Our friends at Top Furniture helped us out, and many thanks to all of them from all of us at Tri-Town Rescue.

In addition, we have been gathering up needed supplies for the West Paris Old Home Days. This is coming up on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of June. Also, the West Paris High School Alumni Banquet is the 2nd.

A busy weekend is coming right up and a good one for all to enjoy. When you see me and some of my outlaw friends at one of the booths, be ready to shell out some green for wicked good french fries, baked goodies and a few other items. There will be something for all and all for a good cause. And as always there will be a fireworks display on Friday night, a parade on Saturday morning, an Old Duffer's baseball game and other wicked good attractions. So come on out and meet up with old friends, new ones and spread a little cheer.

Last Friday evening, myself, Anita and the Wilburs attended a Woodchoppers Degree at the Blazing Star Lodge in Rumford. The members and wives of Blazing Star served a delicious roast pork dinner. Sterling and Jane Mills were there too, and Ken Grover along with his brother, Ken. Sterling, Ken and myself were from Jefferson Lodge taking the degree. The Woodchoppers degree is a fun time and a way to raise money. The charge for the degree was going to a scholarship fund at the Lubec, Maine, lodge. Many a round of laughter filled the evening and is sure to be remembered. In addition, it was so good to see so many friends.

I haven't seen my buddy the woodchuck. I've been watching and checking for signs, but he hasn't been around. At least he hasn't given me the one-finger salute. Where one entrance to a summer camp was located is now a bed for high-bush blueberries. So he better stay out of my scope of life. If he does show up again, I'll be tempted to fill that Hava-Hart trap with delicious goodies sure to please him for a minute. At least long enough to spring the door shut. Then, away we will fly to a place that will feed him for sure. I'm sure Norway has room for an extra woodchuck.

Saturday evening, Ray, Noreen and puppies visited. The puppies had to have a ride and Noreen cut Anita's hair. Course the puppies lined up and had several treats. They each had to have equal attention. So life is good.

But for now, keep the sun on your face and be happy.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

On this early March-like day, I wait for the sun to come up and disappear the frost. Two weeks ago it was 95; today it starts at barely 30. The birds are more sluggish; the squirrels are destroying the feeders. Some say a bear has visited their house. We haven't seen one. We do have a perky neighborhood dog that is leaving his waste in our yard. Tasha uses the woods; this dog has no manners. Oh well, that is life!

We have seen all manner of birds here. With the help of a bird book, I have been writing down some of the birds we see at our feeder. We have seen a pine grosbeak and a rose-breasted grosbeak. We've seen a downy woodpecker and maybe a hairy one. We've heard but haven't seen a phoebe, and have seen: a common redpoll, a scarlet tanager, a titmouse, a house finch, robins, and doves and blue jays of course, and a Baltimore oriole. I am looking for an indigo bunting and cardinals. We have had a hummingbird coming by even though I don't have a hummingbird feeder up, yet. It likes the red bird feeder.

Perhaps this will get printed this week, but I am not sure because our Internet seems to be down. In any case, it means I do not have to weed through tons of junk e-mail. I thought junk mail was bad, but junk e-mail is worse. I hope no one is trying to reach me via e-mail, because it is just not reliable. From now on, if you want to reach me, use the telephone. We do get messages.

Next weekend, there is a bottle drive for the ball field. It is June 2.

We're hoping that Darlene is back in action and at the Bethel Transfer Station. Look for her on Saturday. Now that the winter is over, she should be back. Sundays will continue to be Joe and Lloyd and Dave and I will be there on Wednesday, as usual.

That is all for this week. Last week did not get printed, but most of the items were time sensitive. Have a great week.

by and another bunch in the other flowerbed just came out. The bulbs must be a little different to bloom at different times. The lilies of the valley are up but have not blossomed. A little more sun to warm them up would help. My front lawn snake has not been out for a few days either. It likes the sunny spots.

A large, black rabbit with a white tail has been hopping around beside the garage. It must be someone's pet.

Most days there are two woodchucks out back feeding on the new grass. They haven't been into Dana's garden yet. They are probably waiting for the peas to form to have a feast.

On Sunday, May 27, the Logan Family will lead the service at the West Paris Universalist Church. Church starts at 9 a.m. followed by a coffee hour. Jim Burke is the organist.

Beverly and Vince Stevens attended a birthday celebration in New Gloucester for David Goodwin, who turned two.

I attended a party in Auburn on Sunday to celebrate Nicolas Hartley's 6th birthday. He received a big-boy bicycle and many other presents. The theme was pirates. His mother made a cake, which was like a treasure chest with the middle full of gold coins that were foil-covered candy. There were about ten young cousins attending. Grand Mother Jude Lamb, great-grandmothers Florence McLaughlin and Joyce Lamb and Mel Young from West Paris and several aunts and uncles, and parents, Kelly and Cameron Hartley, and sister Sophia and brother Weston. All had a good, noisy time.

As I am typing I am being pushed out of the desk chair by Muffin. She takes up the back half and pushes me out to the edge. At night she wants to sleep in the middle of the bed. She knows who is the boss around here already.

Judith Grover Tent 17 Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War met on Monday, May 14, at the Grange Hall. The charter was draped for Past Department President Mildred Caron. Nine members were present.

Marybeth Hoover was installed as council member #1 and color bearer #3. She also received her past president's pin, presented by her mother, Elizabeth Hoover.

Communications were read from Department Treasurer Gail Butterfield notifying us of the death of Mildred Caron, past department president, and a thank you from Michelle Cary with tickets on the May basket. Received a donation that went with the Senior Citizens dinner.

Memorial Day plans were discussed; Steve Seames will be the Memorial Day speaker.

Delegates and alternates for convention were appointed: Amanda Jordan and Marybeth Hoover as delegates and alternates are Elena Noyes and Alice Hoyt. Sally told about the dedication of the Vietnam Veterans Monument at Rumford on Saturday and also that the last World War I Women Veterans had died.

Calls made were 21 and the mystery package went to Marybeth.

Sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Eda Waterhouse and Joe Cole, who died recently.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5 p.m., evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening is prayer meeting at 6:30. Coming up is Fun Day on Saturday, May 26, with luncheon at Fellowship Hall. Vacation Bible School will be held June 18 to 22.

The Woodstock Extension canceled their Greenhouse Trip because of the weather.

The Woodstock High School Alumni Banquet will be held on June 9 at 5 p.m. at Telstar Regional High School cafeteria. Classes honored will be 1937, 1947, 1957 (sorry I printed the wrong year last week), also seniors from Woodstock and Greenwood. Senior awards will be presented at this time. All alumni welcome. Price is $8.50 to all but honored guests.

The Memorial Day Program, put on by the Daughters of Union Veterans, will be held at the honor roll on Monday, May 28. The program starts at 1 p.m. followed by the parade to the cemetery. After the parade, ice cream or popsicles will be given to all marchers. Steve Seames will speak, Gen. Logan orders, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, fourth-grade essay read, etc. All welcome. Mahosuc Community Band will provide the music and the Legion the color guard and gun salute and prayer at the cemetery. School children, Legion, D.U.V. members, and anyone who wishes are asked to join the parade.

News from Mrs. Nieberle While walking on our road I saw Lucy Robbins outside with her dog, Mary Mayberry was walking on the road, which she does often. Patty Caret came for a visit. She said Rowe School closes the week of June 18.

Noticed on the way to South Paris just after Black Brook Road on Route 26 a new roadway for house lots is being made.

Met Jane Perham from Perham's in West Paris. Very nice woman, and met some of her shopkeepers, who also were very nice. They told me how much they enjoyed looking at our geese and cows. Mrs. Perham said she knew the Claude Cushman's, who owned the farm before us. My grandkids love to go to Perham's to see all the mineral rocks.

Wendall Holmes and his wife will be celebrating 50 years of marriage this month.

Bob Coolidge came to visit recently; everyone seems to know Bob. He was the former owner of Bob's Corner Store. He is always so friendly and has a big smile.

There is a new shop on the corner across from the Post Office called "Beth's Bargain Boutique," also the yellow house at the bottom of Merryfield Hill has a "For Sale pending" sign outside.

Met Jane Young at the Express. A very nice woman who told me her son is Rick Young, a selectman here. Ellie told me her grandson, Caleb, was shown briefly on Channel 6 news. He was at the hockey game for the Mainiacs Saturday night.

Karen Yarasitis is still recovering from her fractured leg received while skiing in April. She soon will be putting aside the crutches.

Saw Peter Haines at the Post Office. He is recovering from a shoulder replacement.

Went to the Locke Mills Rummage Sale for the Church. Brenda Mumm was a volunteer worker and a big help to the sale. I saw Joyce and Willy Hathaway. It was good to see him. Will has been ill from a heart condition since March. He had a bypass and is doing well. Had also seen Mr. and Mrs. Gil Whitman there also. The tables were full of food, clothes and white elephant things.

Went to breakfast at Cinnamon Stick with Dot Cushman and Cecil, a friend of both of us. Linda, from the restaurant, lives on my street and happens to see one of the cows caring for her new calf, born just a few minutes before. This was all new to Linda and interesting. We have had two calves born this month.

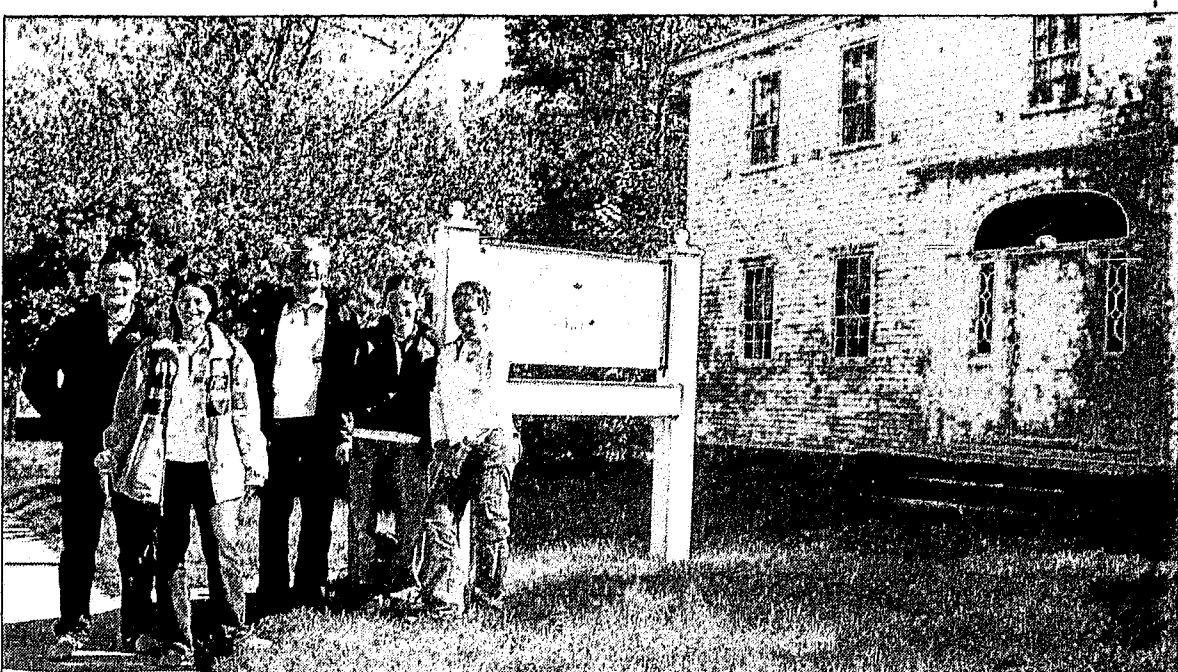

Historical Society At the May meeting of the Historical Society Paul and Vicki Billings described their trip to the Catskills. They saw the Baseball Hall of Fame, some lighthouses, and the Vanderbilt Mansion on the Hudson.

The June meeting will be a Jeopardy program. The society meets the second Saturday of each month. The museum will be open Saturdays from 1 to 4 p.m. starting in June.

Albany

by Sheila Dyke
Greetings and hello from Albany Township. Ah, now the sun is shining, and the weather is supposed to turn warmer; folks have been out mowing their lawns (in between rain drops, that is) and everything is turning green. We've also been seeing the blooms of early spring flowers to add a touch of color. From our kitchen window the mountains look fuzzy with the various greens of the evergreens and new leaves.

I saw in the paper that the Albany Improvement Association had a very successful "no bake bake sale" and will be able to upgrade the electrical system of the old Town Hall. Watch for news on the summer work day they hope to hold.

SWISS GSE TEAM VISITS—Members of a Rotary Group Study Exchange team from Switzerland visited Bethel this week. The Rotary international program is designed to promote international understanding through the exchange of young businesspeople between countries. The five Swiss members visited the Bethel Rotary Club Tuesday morning, then toured the Bethel Historical Society. Pictured are, from left: Stefan Hubeli, who works in banking; Michele Schaub, who holds a business engineering degree; Rolf Meier (team leader), who is retired; Lyn Gyger, who works for Rivella, the Swiss national soft drink; and Annette Stephani, an aircraft mechanic.

On the lighter side, away and doom. The birds have been wonderful. Last week was the time of year that the eastern flyway opens up to all manner of flight birds.

The rose-breasted grosbeaks (males) have been seen all over town. They are very beautiful in their white, red and black plumage. The orioles are visiting the suet feeders and oranges placed out to lure them in. Evelyn and Jim Kenney had them all at their bird station including a lovely indigo bunting. The orioles and grosbeaks have also been spotted on Back Street.

There is a family of raccoons lodged upstairs in our garage. I wish I knew how to evict them.

Saturday evening as we headed for dinner at the Bull Moose Restaurant, we encountered a huge, mangy looking bull moose. Jerry Geiling, the former owner of that land, named his camp ground the "Bull Moose" because he met up with one every time he drove up the driveway. Incidentally, the fried shrimp and scallop dinner at that restaurant is super.

Some signs of spring are appearing. The fiddleheads are right for picking as are the asparagus. Lupine plants are growing well and we should have a good show of them next month.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte
This morning (Tuesday) the temperature read 31 degrees!

It's cold, wet, and definitely not the merry month of May weather. The rain has been with us for about five days. The Dead Cambridge River is roaring. Stoney Brook is flooding through the woods. Leaves are reluctant to come out on the trees. The lake is very high overflowing its banks. This time it isn't the power company's fault because the dam in Errol is wide open with the Androscoggin flowing in a most turbulent rush.

Diane Williamson's kayak that was beached high and dry off the lake was floated away as the water rose. Larry Nelson, whose boat was in the water, searched the lake for Diane's Kayak. Mary Davis rescued it as it found its way into IT'S ONLY PRACTICE—Rescue, fire and police departments from all over Oxford County, as well as Conway, N.H., took part in a mass casualty incident exercise Saturday at the Fryeburg Fairgrounds. The exercise simulated a helicopter crash during the fair. In addition to injuries caused by the "crash" itself, the drill also included a chemical spill that resulted from the accident and which prompted a hazardous materials response (right). About three dozen volunteers served as victims. Among the emergency personnel from the Bethel region participating were Tri-Town and Stoneham Rescue, the Stoneham and Waterford fire departments and Med-Care Ambulance. While the victims were transported to the Fryeburg Middle School, corresponding "victims" were simultaneously treated at Stephens Memorial, Bridgton and Conway Memorial hospitals. The Oxford County Community Emergency Response Team also set up a mock shelter at the middle school. The exercise was overseen by Scott Parker of Bethel, the Emergency Management director for Oxford County. The practice provided an opportunity for emergency responders to improve their coordination in the event of a large-scale disaster.

I can't see that puppies are too much different than

young children. Today is a rainy day and Chloe cannot find anything to do but get into mischief. Not that she considers it mischief, it just looks like fun and games to her but it takes ingenuity and considerable brainpower to figure out how to thwart her and keep her busy. It's somewhat like trying to balance a stick with cups on both ends on one's nose. I long ago decided I had too much "stuff" and have been trying to downsize. That means boxes and trash bags filled with all kinds of interesting items for a little dog to investigate. I have to remember that she, being half dachshund, is very tall when she stands on her hind legs, so putting things up means twice as high as one would for an ordinary dog.

The other day I was getting out some soda crackers to have with my soup and put them down on the counter and she, like a flash grabbed for the crackers and gaily ran off with them. Now I don't move very fast these days with a dicky knee on one side and a painful hip on the other. By the time I reached her she had shaken the paper surrounding the stack and there were crackers all over the carpet in the living room and she was happily rolling on a pile of them.

I pick my battles so I didn't scold her. I figure she won't be doing that when she gets older. But I will be more careful where I put food and anything that looks like a good thing to play with, which at her age is just about everything.

My housekeeping isn't anything to sneeze about as it is and right now the house looks even worse than usual, but I am still glad I got a puppy. If one can see the joy of being young and seeing everything as something bright and new to experience, they can be heartwarming and fun. They do make more work, just like babies, but they grow up fast enough and I needed to see the world with fresh eyes before I get old and crabbed. Getting old is something I can't do anything about, but being crabby I can, so I am learning to enjoy life all over again and Chloe is a good teacher as she dances and wiggles her way through her days.

I was surprised to hear that Rev. Jerry Falwell has died. No matter what one thought of him he certainly made one think. He seemed to see everything as black or white where I tend to see a lot of gray. He once made the, to me, outrageous statement that all Democrats were tools of Satan. Well, some of them certainly have the morals of alley cats, but, so do some Republicans and Independents and whatever party one could name. People are people and we never were stamped out with cookie cutters. And, surprise, Christians come in all shapes, sizes and colors, too. And, unfortunately some of them succumb to temptation. The difference is that they feel worse about it, and, hopefully try to do better. God's laws were designed to keep us out of trouble, not as instruments of punishment. I still am not sure that politics and Christianity make very good bedfellows, but I do think we have the right to be involved if we want to be. I am convinced that everyone should make the effort to vote.

One thing I did admire Rev. Falwell for and that was his ability to remain cool under pressure. If he did lose his temper, and he may have, I never saw it in any of the discussions I watched. He didn't even seem ruffled. But the one thing I will remember most is his saying, "You ask Christians how they are and many of them will say, 'I am pretty well, under the circumstances.' Now Christians were not meant to live 'under the circumstances' but have victory over them." I try to remember that when I want to crawl under the circumstances. I cringed many times at some of the things he said but I am going to miss him. nevertheless. He had a way of making me stop and evaluate where I stood on many issues. He never was afraid to speak out, and some of the things he said needed saying and some didn't. And, he certainly made me stop many times and contemplate that old prayer, "Please make my words sweet today, Lord, for tomorrow I may have to eat them."

Garbo certainly has her work cut out for her as she tries to bring up Chloe. Last week Brutus came to visit and the minute he jumped on Chloe, Garbo, followed by Jack, pounced on him and drove him back into a corner batting at him. Brutus was just getting over a sore ear put there by Cosmo when Brutus got too close to his bone, and I didn't want my cats opening up the wound again. I grabbed Jack, who was doing more yowling and growling than actual damage, and shoved him outside. It took a bit more to pull Garbo off the dog. She has a one-track mind and it was centered on punishing Brutus for jumping on "her" dog. I finally got her to let go and opened up the door to upstairs and put her on the stair, told her to scoot, and closed the door.

Peace reigned for two minutes. Then Brutus jumped on Chloe again, this time unencumbered, and for the next two hours those puppies ran, jumped, nipped, growled, and rolled each other over until they both declared a draw and took a nap until it was time for Brutus to go home.

And last night Chloe, who had slept all evening and was not ready for bed, ran around and around the house, every now and then jumping up on the bed to run over me and nip at my hair or nose. Garbo took it about as long as she could, then she jumped up on the bed beside my pillow and when the puppy ran up she raised up one paw. Chloe took one look at that paw and just stopped where she was, laid down, and closed her eyes. And much to my surprise, I never heard another peep out of her until morning. Wish I was as effective in getting her to mind!

Debbie Brown and I took an on-the-spur-of-the-moment trip to Gorham, N.H., Thursday afternoon after Deb got out of work and explored the new Wal-Mart there, huge. Then we picked up a chicken meal at a local chain and went to Deb's and shared it with Owen, who is hard at work planting his gardens. We had a lot of fun and actually came back with some money left in our pockets.

I was very sorry to hear about the death of Joe Cole. My husband and I lived beside him at one time, too far back to even think about. Anyhow we considered him a friend and a good neighbor. He will be missed.

From Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

The 28th annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show will be held on May 26 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Dr. Moses Mason House. Sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society, the show highlights a historical theme (this year "Old Days on the Androscoggin") for students in SAD44 (Grades 1-6) to consider in entering the competition for cash awards in three divisions. Each entry should relate in some way to this theme. Specific guidelines have been distributed to each classroom in the district. To be considered, all entries should be at the Dr. Moses Mason House by 3 p.m. on Friday, May 25. Judging will take place before the opening of the show on Saturday, May 26. Those wishing further information should call the society at 824-2908 or (800) 824-9210.

St. Never's Day Sale

Once again, the society will hold its 10th annual St. Never's Day sale on Saturday, May 26, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the corner of Mason and Broad streets under a tent. Items in good condition (please no clothing or computer equipment) are welcomed and may be left on the back porch of the O'Neil Robinson House, 10 Broad Street (next to the Bethel Library) or on Stan Howe's side porch at 18 Broad Street at any time. Those needing pickup should call the society office.

Once again this year, the society is offering a 3 x 6 foot table for rent under the tent for those who wish to join us in selling their items. The rental fee is $20 per table and spaces are limited. Anyone wishing to register for a table should call the society office at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910. All profits from this sale benefit the general operations of the society and its programming. Come and discover all the "treasures" of this year's sale that you never knew you needed.

Bethel Boy Scout
Troop 565

This past weekend, Troop 565 participated in a Disabilities Awareness Camporee at Camp Gustin, in which they all had the opportunity to learn about different physical disabilities. They participated in a disability challenge and awareness program with a series of 14 activities. They were faced with completing everyday tasks while being challenged by different physical conditions. Sometimes they were blindfolded while other times their limbs were restricted. They even put nose plugs on to restrict their sense of smell. The boys really enjoyed the wheelchair race and the disabled obstacle course.

The weather was a bit damp, but the boys stayed warm and dry, especially when the sun came out. They all had a blast learning new skills and having fun in a wet environment. They worked well in achieving a high rank award for their outstanding campsite inspection.

Congratulations go to Bryce Richmond and James Lowell, who were called out to become members of the Order of the Arrow.

The troop helped out during the March of Dimes Walk held on May 6 by serving hot dogs and refreshments and did a wonderful job. Keep up the great work. They also helped the Maine Handicap Ski Program by washing dishes after their end-of-the-season dinner on April 1. The boys all have a better appreciation of the things these instructors do for their clients after participating at this year's Spring Camporee. Thank you for all that you do.

If you're a boy entering sixth grade or above and would like to become a boy scout of Troop 565, please contact Scoutmaster Dean Richmond at 836-2548. We are currently looking for more boys to enrich our program.

From
Bethel Cub Scout
Troop 566

The boys participated in a Fella's Cake Bake at the March of Dimes Walk earlier in the month and did a super job with their designs. We can't wait until next year to see what creative ideas the boys will come up with.

Thank you to all the boys and girls along with their parents who helped in posting American flags at the surrounding cemeteries in time for the Memorial Day Weekend. The Cub Scouts will be marching with the Veterans in the Memorial Day parades on Monday, May 28, along with Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts. The Locke Mills parade will start at 9 a.m.; boys meet at the Legion Hall. The Bethel parade boys meet at Kelly's Auto Supply at 11 a.m. Please come out and support the Veterans by honoring this special day.

If you're a boy entering first grade thru fifth grade and would like to become a Cub Scout, we are currently doing spring recruitment. Please contact Cubmaster Matty Leach at 357-7773.

White Mountain National Forest

The White Mountain National Forest's 16th annual Kids Free Fishing Day will happen on Saturday, June 2, at the pond at Wildcat Ski Area on Route 16 south of Gorham, N.H. Kids aged 15 and under are invited to fish from 9 to 12 a.m., followed by afternoon fishing for all ages. There is no charge for the day, no fishing license is necessary, and all are welcome.

U.S. Forest Service Fisheries Biologist Jay Milot will once again be on the shore to offer kids one-on-one instruction in rigging gear and all things having to do with fish and fishing.

The morning will also feature a casting event, learning stations covering a variety of aquatic topics, and a small fishing pool just right for the youngest anglers. Prizes for all participants will be awarded at 12 noon, along with a special raffle to be held in memory of Eric Swett, a Forest Service employee who loved fishing, kids, and the White Mountains.

The U.S. Forest Service is grateful to these local businesses and partners who have contributed in many ways toward making this a fun and informative event for everyone: New Hampshire Fish and Game, Wildcat Mountain Ski Area, Wal-Mart, Gorham Hardware, and the Appalachian Mountain Club.

Kids Free Fishing Day will happen rain or shine. Kids should bring an adult and their own gear. For more information call the Forest Service at (603) 466-2713 (TTY (603) 466-2856).

National Trails Day
Celebrate the 15th anniversary of National Trails with the White Mountain National Forest. You're invited to join us at the Saco Ranger Station, 33 Kancamagus Scenic Byway, Conway, N.H., on June 2 at 9 a.m. to learn about basic trail maintenance. No experience necessary.

Trails Day brings together outdoor enthusiasts of all kinds to celebrate the great natural heritage of the United States trail system. Traditionally held each year on the first Saturday in June, National Trails Day was established to recognize the value of recreational trails and the people involved in building and maintaining them.

Whether it's the U.S. Forest Service or a volunteer group, trail preservation is necessary to keep our trails open to the public and available for years to come.

Come to the Saco Ranger Station prepared for a day on the trail with work gloves, hiking boots, lunch, water and rain gear. We will be doing basic maintenance including cleaning drainages and clearing the trail corridor.

Adopt-A-Trail opportunities are available. Try out trail maintenance on National Trails Day and then decide if you're ready to adopt.

For more information about Adopt-A-Trail and/or National Trails Day, please contact Bailey at (603) 447-5448 x112.

If you aren't able to join us take some time to enjoy a hike, walk, run, or bike ride on a trail in the White Mountain National Forest or near where you live.

Androscoggin
River Watershed Council

Local citizens are banding together to tackle pollution in the Androscoggin as part of National River Cleanup Week 2007. The Androscoggin River Watershed Council will conduct a stream cleanup with the help of volunteers on June 2.

"The Watershed Council is dedicated to protecting the Androscoggin because a healthy community starts with a healthy river. Our volunteers are excited to pitch in because a cleaner river is a healthier river," said Barbra Barrett, project coordinator.

National River Cleanup Week, presented by American Rivers, kicks off a series of community-based stream cleanups nationwide beginning the week of June 2-10. This popular annual event raises public awareness of the magnitude of trash accumulating in our nation's waterways. The Androscoggin River Watershed Council will be participating along with tens of thousands of volunteers taking part in hundreds of cleanups across the country to remove trash from local rivers and streams. Learn more about National River Cleanup Week at www.nationalrivercleanup.org.

"The Androscoggin is so important to our community that we've decided to participate in the national cleanup effort to do what we can to protect it, for us and for future generations. Keeping it clean is one way that citizens can do their part for the river we all love," said Barrett.

"It's thrilling to see so many people across the nation pitching in to protect their local river or favorite stream," said Rebecca Wodder, president of American Rivers, the organization that coordinates National River Cleanup Week. "We applaud the work of The Androscoggin River Watershed Council not just for speaking out for the Androscoggin but for taking action to keep it healthy."

The local cleanup on the Androscoggin will take place on June 2 and will cover the stretch of river between Shelburne, N.H., and Gilead, Maine. Interested volunteers should plan on meeting at 9 a.m. at the Shelburne Dam on the North Road in Shelburne, shuttle and trash bags will be provided.

If you would like to participate in this event, but do not have a boat, rentals are available through the Bethel Outdoor Adventure Center; they can be reached at 824-4224. Please register for the event by calling the local project coordinator, Barbra Barrett at 527-2163 or through e-mail at trek@megalink.net.

For more information on river cleanups happening throughout the watershed, around the state or across the country, visit: www.nationalrivercleanup.org.

The Androscoggin River Watershed Council (ARWC) is a nonprofit organization whose mission is "to improve environmental quality and promote healthy and prosperous communities in the Androscoggin River Watershed." The 3,500 square-mile watershed stretches from the remote northern forests near Maine and New Hampshire's Canadian border to the tidal waters of Maine's Atlantic coast.

Founded in 1973, American Rivers is a national nonprofit conservation organization dedicated to protecting and restoring healthy natural rivers for the benefit of communities, fish, and wildlife.

American Rivers has over 60,000 supporters nationwide, with staff in Washington, D.C., and the Mid-Atlantic, Northeast, Midwest, Southeast, California and Northwest regions. Visit www.AmericanRivers.org.

The Lewin Center

We're glad the spring weather seems to be returning, and we can get into the Gehring House gardens! An enthusiastic crew of volunteers met last week to roam the gardens and make plans. They were enthralled with the treasures they found lurking in all sorts of corners. Many areas had not been tended for decades, but there were some promising finds that this group is eager to bring back to glory.

The first priority will be to improve the various garden areas that already exist, and many hands are needed. Later this summer, there will probably be some additional plantings in the gardens closest to the house.

At the same time, people are researching what might have been some glorious gardens in the Gehring House history and planning how to recreate or create anew some additional areas. Ruth Barrett is coordinating landscape and gardening volunteers. If you're interested in helping with these efforts, you may call Ruth at 824-0711.

Christine Greenleaf has begun preparations for the NTL programs that will be held in the Gehring House (and elsewhere in Bethel) from July 14-Aug. 10.

From West Paris Library

Four local and area authors will be featured at the West Paris Library on Old Home Days weekend to showcase their works and sign books. These writers have graciously accepted invitations from the library trustees or Friends of the Library group to share their stories, experiences in writing and publishing their works.

On Friday evening, June 1, from 5:30 to 7:30, Eva D. Ward from Brownfield will be on hand with her book, "Calvin C. Waxwing." This delightful piece of juvenile literature explores the adventures of a bird that fell out of a nest and his rescue by young children. The story is true and took place in 1978. Eva's daughter, Deborah Ward York, the illustrator, will also be at the library.

On Saturday, June 2, between 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., A. Sayward Lamb will showcase his book of hunting and fishing stories. These tales cover experiences of the author, his relatives and friends over more than a 60-year period. The book, "Deer Tails & Other Tales," chronicles events, often humorous, and sometimes at the expense of the author, of his many years spent in the woods, on lakes and streams, mostly in Maine but sometimes in Newfoundland, Alaska and Florida.

Sayward, a Maine native, is retired and shares his time between his home on North Pond in Woodstock and his winter home in Florida.

Also from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Judy Green will be on hand to share a collection of her stories set in western Maine. In the first story, the entire village (by gossiping) actually solves the mystery. In other stories the sleuth is a high school English teacher coming up against an ancient family tragedy, the connection between an old tramp and a silent high school girl, a stolen cat, an elderly mother in a nursing home who knows something she can't manage to tell and other everyday Maine conundrums.

Judith Green is a sixth-generation resident of a village in the western mountain region of Maine. She is just retiring as director of Adult Education for Oxford Hills and Buckfield, after 28 years with SAD17. She looks forward to more time for writing and spending time with her two wonderful grandsons. She has written 25 books for adult new readers and is currently working on a novel in which her Maine high school sleuth solves a crime while hiking across England with her husband.

From 12:30 till 2 p.m., Harry L. Harper, M.D. will visit the library to sign copies of his recently published work, "A Recall of the Fifty Year History of Stephens Memorial Hospital." Dr Harper is one of the eight doctors who started the hospital in 1957. This book is a recollection of facts and events, as he remembers them, pertaining to the hospital from that time to today, 2007, when the hospital is celebrating its 50th Birthday. Many may remember his previous book, "Dr. Iodine."

The library is very pleased to have these four authors visit the "Little Castle" to talk about their books and sign copies, which will be available for purchase on that day. Drop by, meet and visit with the authors and enjoy some light refreshments furnished by Friends of the Library.

HELP FOR THE RONALD MCDONALD HOUSE—Brendon Stearns, a third-grade member of the Crescent Park Student Council recently brought to school his bag full of pop tabs that he has been collecting all year. Student Council collects the tabs for the Ronald McDonald House in Portland. Brendon's bag helped filled the box. The box will be taken to an aluminum recycling center and the money sent to the Ronald McDonald House. Any-one wishing to help out may bring tabs to CPS.

Students train for Telstar Challenge

By STEVE KEANE

Students in the Telstar Challenge elective program at Telstar High School recently learned water safety and First Aid training at The River View Motel swimming pool.

Students participated in water rescues and CPA/AR demonstration.

A combination of 21 Telstar sophomores, juniors and seniors have enrolled in the elective program titled Telstar Challenge.

The program offers three segments. The first includes a variety of group challenges that are primarily physical in nature rather than mental.

Although students need to think and reason during each challenge, successful completion of the challenge is focused on finishing or solving a physical problem.

The second component of the elective program is an "emergency First Aid for life" piece whereby students get exposed to a variety of First Aid situations that potentially can occur during the third segment of the program, that being a white water canoeing piece.

Once students complete the First Aid section of the program, each is ready to handle most First Aid situations that arise on the river with the paddling component.

These skills will be important for being prepared when students enter the whitewater paddling segment of the program.

Telstar students participating in the Telstar program this year include Max Meader, Cyrus Krahn, Peter Dickenson, Danny Ojeda, Kelsie Kuvaja, Brianne Gray-Thompson, Joselyn Belanger, Tara Lunney, Bliss Benson, Katlyn Keane, Lisa Piccirillo, Andrea Gunther, Tanya Hebert, Crickett Kelley, John Lewis, Will Chapman, Evan Boelsma, Patrick Gallagher, Charles Haines, Ben Cross and Alex Gundersen.

LEARNING TO SAVE A LIFE—Students in the Telstar Challenge elective program at Telstar High School recently learned water safety and First Aid at the Riverview Motel pool. Here, Will Chapman performs CPR after "rescuing" his partner by using a cross-chest carry to get him across the pool.

OVER AND BACK—Telstar was a busy place last Thursday as a track meet, baseball game and softball game were all taking place at the same time. Top, the Rebels' Katlyn Keane clears the bar in the high jump. Bottom, Kyle Maines dives safely back to the bag as Winthrop's first baseman takes a throw from his pitcher. Meanwhile, on Telstar's softball field, Rebel pitcher Candace Hall was busy throwing a perfect game in a 13-0 victory over Winthrop. It was Hall's third no-hitter of the season, and the Lady Rebels are currently 12-0. (For a THS track team photo, see page 20.)

MELISSA SILVERMAN

Melissa Silverman of Mongaup Valley, N.Y. suddenly passed away from an aortic dissection on Saturday, May 5, 2007.

Melissa was co-owner and operator of Silverman Mechanical Corp. in Mongaup Valley. She was born in Portland, Maine, on Aug. 2, 1953 and was a long-time resident of Sullivan County, New York.

She was an adored wife to Steven Silverman for 32 years, proud mother of Mandi and Paul Bromberg, Haley and Kara Silverman, and grandmother of two wonderful grandchildren, Sedona and Bryce Bromberg. Sister to Richard and Ida Newman; Keith Newman and fiancé, Laurie; Delbert Bryant (formerly of Bethel); Joann and Dick Wright (of Locke Mills); Bradley Swan; Stuart and Vivian Silverman; daughter-in-law to David and Florence Silverman. Melissa was a beloved aunt, cousin and friend to so many who will all sadly miss her forever.

Among the many things we will all miss about her is her laugh, which was so contagious; we couldn't help but laugh with her most of the time.

She was predeceased by her loving parents, Harry and Ruth Newman, birth mother Dorothy Swan, and siblings, Caroline Wilcox Taylor, Wayne Wilcox, Marian Wilcox and Marie Mayo.

Memorial services were held at and funeral arrangements made by Joseph N. Garlick Funeral Home, 388 Broadway, Monticello, N.Y. Wednesday, May 9, 2007 at 3 p.m. It was requested that, in lieu of flowers, contributions be made to the A.S.P.C.A. or the American Heart Association.

RAYMOND J. ARSENAULT

Raymond J. Arsenault, 78, of South Paris, formerly of Bethel, died Monday, May 14, 2007 at Norway Rehabilitation and Living Center, Norway.

He was born in Gorham, N.H., on May 3, 1929, the son of Glorice and Mary Desroche Arsenault. He attended school in Gorham, N.H., and had been a deputy sheriff for Oxford County, before moving to Florida.

He enjoyed gambling and politics. He was chairman of the Democratic Party in Norway in the 1960s.

He is survived by two daughters, Laurel Foster of Charlotte, N.C. and Bonnie Van Durme, and her husband Doug of Norway; three sons, Lee Arsenault and Paul Arsenault, both of Norway and Dennis Arsenault and his wife Debbie of South Paris; nine grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by a grandson, Travis Van Durme.

A private Mass of Christian burial will be held at the family lot at Holy Family Cemetery, Gorham, N.H. Donations in his memory can be made to the Travis Van Durme Scholarship Fund, c/o Androscoggin Savings Bank, Main Street, South Paris, ME 04281. Online condolences may be shared with his family at www.westonchandler.com.

THERESE H. WHITLEY

Therese H. Whitley, 70, of Oxford died Thursday, May 17, 2007 at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway.

She was born in Augusta on March 29, 1937, the daughter of Albanie and Laurette Lessard Pare. She graduated from high school at Oxford Hills and had been employed at A.L. Stewarts and later at C.B. Cummings Co. as an assistant foreman, retiring after 35 years.

She was a member of the Oxford Advent Christian Church, the Oxford Hills ATV Trailblazers and Good Sam No. 28 Fireside Friends. She enjoyed bowling years ago and took great pride and joy in her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She married Charles Whitley on Sept. 29, 1960.

She is survived by her husband of Oxford; two daughters, Esther Hunt and her husband Stanley of West Paris and Estelle Dow of Poland; a son, George May Jr., and his wife Merry of South Paris; a stepdaughter, Darlene Wolfson and her husband Stephen of Holly Hill, Fla.; two stepsons, Daryl Whitley and David Whitley; seven grandchildren; 12 great-grandchildren; four sisters, Rose Pare, Yvette Austin, Germaine Belanger and her husband Leo and Laurette Rowe; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held on Monday, May 21 at the Oxford Advent Christian Church. Interment was at the New Maine Veterans' Cemetery in Augusta. Online condolences may be shared with her family at www.westonchandler.com.

GLADYS M. STEWART

Gladys M. Stewart, who had just celebrated her 99th birthday, died on May 21, 2007 at Market Square Health Care Center, South Paris, where she lived after moving from Massachusetts in December 2002.

She was born in Belfast, Northern Ireland, on May 14, 1908, the daughter of Samuel and Minnie Glass. She attended schools there and immigrated to the United States in 1929. Until her marriage, she worked for the Metropolitan Insurance Company in New York City, and later worked at Eastman Kodak in New Jersey.

She married Henry Stewart on Aug. 31, 1935. While on their honeymoon they attended the U. S. Open tennis matches in Forest Hills, N.Y.

Gladys lived most of her married life in northern New Jersey, retiring to Toms River, N.J., in 1966. While she never lost her Irish accent, she firmly believed in the American dream. In particular, she and her husband provided the best possible educational opportunities for their children and grandchildren.

She belonged to the Presbyterian Church and recently celebrated her fiftieth anniversary as a member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

She is survived by her children, Beverly Genung of Summit, N.J., and Henry Stewart of Greenwood; five grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren. Her husband died in 1978.

Her family wishes to express their gratitude to the staff at Market Square Health Care Center for their compassionate care during her years there. In recognition of this, the family is establishing The Gladys Stewart Book Scholarship to assist Market Square staff members and their children with educational expenses.

A memorial service celebrating her life will be held in June. Interment will be in Toms River, N.J., near her late husband. Online condolences may be shared with her family at www.westonchandler.com.

Telstar Regional High School Recognizes Top Scholars of the Class of 2007

Telstar Regional High School staff and students are pleased to announce the honor students from the graduating class of 2007. These eleven individuals have distinguished themselves throughout their high school careers. The Telstar community congratulates these young scholars for their commitment to their studies, their school and their communities.

April L. Bolstridge
Valedictorian

April Lynn Bolstridge is this year's valedictorian. She is the daughter of David and Karen Bolstridge of Bethel.

April is consistently on the honor roll and her academic achievements include several Excellence Awards in science, math, English and Spanish. She is also this year's Maine Principals' Association Award winner. Her other academic awards include Phi Beta Kappa Association of Maine Certificate of Recognition and Society of Women Engineers Certificate of Achievement.

Outside of the classroom, April is a three-year member of National Honor Society and is this year's president. She's been an active volunteer at the NHS senior citizen Thanksgiving dinners and Red Cross Blood Drives. She is a member of Telstar's Freshmen Awareness Committee, Future Business Leaders of America and Wilderness Adventure Club. April also acted and sang in Telstar's spring musicals. On the sports fields, April is a Mountain Valley Conference field hockey and basketball Academic All-Star. She was this year's basketball co-captain and received the Coach's Award. She has participated on the track team.

April enjoys hiking, rock climbing, reading about black holes, skating and a variety of outdoor activities. She has volunteered at the Bethel Triathlon and the Lake Umbagog Field Day. She plans to attend the University of Connecticut in Storrs as an undecided major.

It's always wise to call ahead

Listings in The Citizen's weekly Community Calendar are compiled from a wide variety of sources. While we do our utmost to ensure the reliability of the information presented here, we recognize that when dealing with such a large volume of material, some inaccuracies will occasionally creep in. And in other cases, a sponsoring organization's plans may change between the time The Citizen is printed and the event is held. Accordingly, we strongly urge our readers to call ahead to verify the details of any event they plan to attend. Doing so will greatly reduce the chance of disappointment or needless inconvenience.

From Oxford County Fair

Twenty-five finalists will be chosen from Oxford County to be honored at the Festival of Recognition for the Hidden Heroes Project at the Oxford County Fair on Friday, Sept. 14, at 7 p.m.

Hidden heroes nominators must be at least 14 years of age.

Nomination letters must be no longer than 150 words and typed or legibly written; longer letters will be disqualified. All letters must be postmarked by midnight, Aug. 1, to Hidden Heroes Project, Box 619, Norway, ME 04268. Letters can also be e-mailed to www.oxfordcountyfair.com. Nominators must include their name, address, telephone number and age. Limit is one nomination per participant.

The nominee must be a living resident of Oxford County who is no younger than 14 years of age.

Include his/her full name, address, age, phone number and why he or she is a hidden hero.

For more information, call 743-2104, or visit the website www.oxfordcountyfair.com.

Golf Tips:

Long Greenside Sand Shots—On any sand shot, the sand kills much of the distance on the ball. Much of the time we try to take less sand to make the ball go longer. Instead, take a normal sand shot swing with your pitching wedge, 9 or 8 iron. The sand will kill a lot of the distance, but you will make the ball go further than if you used the sand wedge.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU
WHEN THE HOME INSPECTOR MISSES SOMETHING
Before the professional inspector examines the home that you are buying, you will be asked to sign an acknowledgment of the scope of the inspection. This document will probably include a disclaimer clause designed to relieve the company of responsibility if they should miss a defect. What happens if a defect is missed during an inspection?
The disclaimer clause may get the inspection company off the hook for a defect if there is no visual indication of a problem. If the inspector clearly indicated that he was not checking for that problem—many inspectors do not check for dry rot or inspect roofs—then the recourse will be limited. If negligence is involved, or if the defect should have been obvious to a professional inspector, the disclaimer is not likely to protect the inspector. If you find an undiscovered defect, discuss the matter with the inspector. Depending on the situation, the responsibility for remedying the problem may rest with you, the sellers, and/or the inspector.
For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahoosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

Sunday River
Real Estate

THE COLONY
AT SUNDAY RIVER

An exclusive new neighborhood in the Sunday River Valley. From a location off Sunday River Road, owners will enjoy spectacular views of the slopes, a private access road to the South Ridge base area and exclusive ownership benefits that include preferred parking spaces and equipment lockers within South Ridge Lodge. Lots start at $139,000. Home packages available.

TEMPEST
mountain village

Tempest Ridge offers a unique opportunity to own one of the finest slopeside homes at Sunday River Ski Resort. These three-level mountain town houses will feature 3 or 4 bedrooms and are located on the Tempest and Road Runner trails in the White Cap base area. 36 units available, starting in the fall of 2007, with prices starting at $548,000.

Mahoosuc Glen

Premier house lots are available in the Mahoosuc Glen development at the Sunday River Golf Club. These spectacular home sites are located along the front nine holes of the golf course and offer sweeping vistas over the course. This is a unique opportunity to build a true four-season vacation home near some of the best skiing and golf in New England. Lots are available from $195,000.
